New Business:

This meeting has been called by Parametrix and ODOT to review a PowerPoint addressing future projects to help improve the City of Shady Cove intercity transportation.

The representative for Parametrix is Erin David and the ODOT representative is Ian Horlacher.

This presentation is based on the next 20 years of projected improvements.

The last Local Street Network Plan was developed in 2007.

Reducing the use of OR 62 and using more intercity travel. Integrating emergency preparedness and maneuverability for tourism and everyday travel.

The PowerPoint presented is a list of goals that Parametrix and ODOT would suggest to better the city's integration. The presentation is based on studies and research submitted by ODOT. There have been between the years of 2018-2022 78 crashes with two fatalities, using these statistics to help improve safer community transitioning from walking, biking and traveling within the city limits.

There was a lot of information that was given and upon the request of the council and planning they would like more information on where this money would come from.

The question was, are there grants that can fund projects that have been suggested and the council is suggesting money to maintain what is already here as opposed to implementing new project. The city has area that needs repair and replace now.

The council and planning agreed that the presentation was great but there is just a lot of information and so many questions to be answered before there could be any decision made.
